

Short visits of an unmarried partner to a partner living in Germany (who is a German citizen, a citizen of another European Union member state, a citizen of Iceland, Liechtenstein, Norway or Switzerland, or a citizen of another country who has a current right of residence in Germany)

Declaration of the existence of the relationship

The declaration is to be completed by the person living in Germany who is to receive the visit from his/her partner. It must be accompanied by a copy of this person's identity document. The declaration must be signed by both partners.

I,

Last name, first name: _____

Date of birth: _____ Nationality: _____

Address in Germany: _____

Telephone number: _____

hereby declare that I am in a long-term relationship/partnership with

Last name, first name: _____

Date of birth: _____ Nationality: _____

Address outside of the European Union: _____

Our relationship is not based solely on oral, written or electronic communication.

We have previously met in person at least once.
Enclosed is suitable evidence of this previous meeting.

I hereby also declare that I will comply with the applicable German health regulations (e.g. maintaining a minimum distance from other persons/adhering to protection measures when in contact with other persons, quarantine requirements). I confirm that the information in this declaration is correct and complete and has been given truthfully and to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Additional information on the declaration of the existence of the relationship for short visits to an unmarried partner in Germany

Please note:

This form serves as proof for air carriers and border officials of a permitted reason for entry during the SARS-CoV-2 pandemic. You must keep this form and any other necessary documents with you when travelling and during your stay.

This document is not a substitute for any visa that may be required. For this reason, nationals of countries that do not belong to the EU who are subject to a visa requirement need a valid visa in addition to this form.

It is, however, not necessary to present a consular certificate. For this reason, the German diplomatic missions abroad do not issue such consular certificates. Instead, please use this form and keep it with you when travelling and during your stay.

Since 10 August 2020, short visits to an unmarried partner in Germany (for a maximum of 90 days within a 180-day period) have been possible under the following conditions:

a. Conditions:

The partner issuing the invitation is a German citizen, a citizen of another European Union member state, a citizen of Iceland, Liechtenstein, Norway or Switzerland, or a citizen of another country who has a current right of residence in Germany. The relationship/partnership is established for the long term and the partners have previously met in person at least once.

b. When entering Germany, the partner should be able to present suitable documents to prove that this is the case:

- an invitation from the partner living in Germany and a copy of that person's identity document,
- the declaration by both partners of the existence of their relationship (on page 1), and
- evidence of having met previously in person, in particular in the form of passport stamps, travel documents or airline tickets.

Photos or communication via letters, email or social media can provide additional evidence of a relationship.
